

A vibrant collection of fresh citrus fruits. On the left, a whole yellow lemon sits next to a cross-section of a lemon, revealing its juicy segments and white pith. A single green leaf is perched on top of the lemon slice. To the right of the lemons are several oranges. One large, whole orange is in the center, showing its textured, bumpy skin. To its right are two more whole oranges. In the foreground on the right, a peeled orange segment is shown, displaying its soft, orange-colored flesh. The entire arrangement is set against a plain white background.
